DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-3 and 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kressin (USP 6,703,960).

With regard to claims 1-3 and 9-11, Kressin discloses in Figure 2 an analog to digital converter that comprises a plurality of comparators (216-222). Each comparator compares an input electrical signal (V_{in}) with a respective pre-selected reference signal (204-210). An encoder (110) coupled to the comparator to receive a detection signal (224-238) from each comparator indicative of the input signal. The pre-selected voltage is provided via a resistor string. Each node of the resistor string is coupled to a respective input of the comparator. The voltage of the nodes to be compared to the input electrical signal is a pre-selected voltage that is derived by programming the first and the second programmable end voltages (212, 214) coupled to the resistor strings

Art Unit: 2819

(see Fig.6). That is the reference voltage is pre-selected based on the comparison of V_{in} and $(V_{max}-V_{min})/2$.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 4-8 and 13-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments, see Appeal Brief, filed 9/30/2005, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-3 and 9-11 under Seki (5,831,567) and Kimura (USP 6,281,828) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Kressin (USP 6,703,960).
